Overview

Zack Anderson joined the firm's Atlanta office in 2015. His practice is primarily devoted to construction, surety, and fidelity litigation. Before joining Mills Paskert Divers, Zack was an associate at a well-respected Atlanta firm, where he gained extensive motions, trial, and appellate experience in the areas of insurance defense, business litigation, and construction litigation.

Prior to attending college, Zack worked in the construction industry for a number of years and gained extensive experience in all aspects of residential home building. In addition, he started and operated a vinyl siding company with his brother, which has since grown into a successful home-building and remodeling business. Zack's construction background provides him with knowledge and insight that is helpful in his practice.

Zack earned his Bachelor of Science in Justice Studies from Georgia Southern University in 2008, and received his Juris Doctor from Duke University School of Law in 2012.
