
Creditors' Rights and Bankruptcy

At Mills Paskert Divers, we have fully integrated our creditors' rights and bankruptcy practice into our litigation group. Our bankruptcy and creditors' rights attorneys understand both the complexities of the bankruptcy code and our client's financial interests. They are often involved not only with the actual bankruptcy proceedings, but also in those steps taken on behalf of our creditor clients, prior to bankruptcy to pursue their rights. In short, our creditors' rights and bankruptcy practice attorneys are regularly engaged in the collection of outstanding obligations and the pursuit of those obligations, if necessary, into the bankruptcy courts of the United States. Our attorneys regularly speak and publish on creditors' rights and related bankruptcy topics. We represent our creditor clients in all phases of litigation and bankruptcy proceedings leading to payment of debtor obligations.
